Little Doing—Mrs. Cornwall—A Clever Picture—A Little Drama—What Our Folks are Doing—Men's Club.

During Holy Week everything is very quiet in town. All dances, clam chowder parties, birthday celebrations, and even weddings have been postponed until after Easter. Then there will be a burst of gladness and rejoicing. Several weddings are on the tapis, full accounts of which will appear in due time. Ladies who have been out of town are gradually coming home and opening up their houses for the summer season. All the colleges and schools have shut down and that gives new life by the increase of number to the younger population. A few of our boys have gone to Washington to listen to the debates on the tariff, and some of our notable citizens are wandering on the sands at Palm Beach. Capt. A. Bedell Benjamin is still in town, and it looks as if he had given up his trip to Bermuda. A few of the women who attended the lecture about the Passion Play on Monday evening wore the new peach basket hats, but as the church was dark they did not attract much attention. It will take the public some time to become accustomed to this new and surprising headgear. One lady remarked yesterday that she thought it would be necessary to have a swelled head to fit the new hats. A few of those who attended the illustrated lecture were Judge Peck, J. W. Thompson, Stratford B. Smith, Sammis, and the Misses Florence Ferrand and Ethelreda Lowndes, who came over from Bridgeport on purpose to be present.

The many friends of Mrs. N. Ellsworth Cornwall are concerned to learn she is suffering from the grip and confined to her room.

Those who admire well painted pictures of natural scenery, such as may be seen hereabouts, will be glad to go to the exhibition of the Art League, at the library in Bridgeport, and see those from the brush of Mrs. Cornwall.

John Park, who is at present employed at the depot in Fairfield, has found time to draw a clever burlesque picture of our new consolidated fire department on the way to put out a grass fire. One of Mr. McNamara's teams has been hitched to the hose cart, and Mr. Judson, the new chief, is supposed to be driving, while a pair of boots, which protrude from the end of the wagon, are labelled James Lally. As far as they go the likeness are very life-like, and the speed with which the horse is rushing up Longbrook avenue or possibly Broadbridge road is a good hint to the department that it is to be really useful. It must get to the fire before the roof falls in.

The walls of the new house have been completed, and now they stand in solitary grandeur waiting for some one to put on a roof. It is announced that the Rebekahs propose after Easter to give a little drama called "The Springtime's Return." It will be very pretty and full of flowers and songs. And it is possible there may be a procession of the new style hats, as well as a scene called "house cleaning."

During the last three days of the week masses will be celebrated at St. James' church.

Mrs. Iremonger, who has been visiting at the Rhoades residence, has returned to Northwood, N. J. While the windows of the Congregational church are not being enlarged the new leaded glass which is being put in to take the place of the old is much admired, and already makes the inside of the structure look more cheerful.

The local baseball team won a game from the Bridgeport Orioles on Saturday at Avon Park, by a score of 7 to 1.

Sunday evening at St. James', Father Thomas Fitzpatrick, brother of Mrs. Daniel Cooney of this town, conducted the evening services. Father O'Connor gave him a hearty welcome and wished him all success in his high calling.

There will be an Easter choral service Sunday evening at Christ church. The roundhouse in Bridgeport is to be painted by Barnum & Graham.

The Garlick family has rented the Barton house in East Broadway.

John Doyle has provided himself with a large hen house. The raising of eggs and poultry is quite a scientific business in this village. Now and then somebody comes along in the night and strips the hen roost.

Leroy Beach is having the inside of his house decorated. And Mr. Polly, the new barber, is to have his shop decorated. And the Peck mansion is being put in apple pie order for the new mistress.

Ernest H. Reed has sold a lot on Cedar avenue, Walnut Beach, to Geo. B. Clark of Milford.

The Pinchloe Club held a meeting last night. Some of the little folks belonging to the family of Dr. Lewis have received a card party. The big boys are in Washington.

William Hughes has made a brief visit to Derby. He hopes soon to go to Nottingham.

Allen Judson has gone into the insurance business. There should be a good field for this in town, since the new house is nearly done and rates will be materially lower.

Fifteen of the little friends of Vincent Muncie helped him to celebrate his birthday last Saturday. The Brodericks, Arbuckles, Egglestons, Curtises and Clibborns were present.

Fred Smith is down with a severe cold. Miss Russell is expected to be well enough to resume her duties at the library in a few days.

There was a funeral at St. James' church on Tuesday morning, the remains of Joseph A. Bosko having been brought from the Bridgeport hospital where he died. He left a wife, a mother, four sisters and two brothers.

The cake sale takes place tomorrow afternoon at the chapel of the Congregational church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hammond were recently in town. Mr. Diamond will soon go to Boston.

The next meeting of the Men's Club will be held at the home of Radford B. Smith in Main street. Now it is thought Rev. Mr. Tweedy of Bridgeport will be the speaker for the evening, April 12.

People past middle life usually have some kidney or bladder disorder that saps the vitality, which is naturally lower in old age. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects urinary troubles, stimulates the kidneys, and restores strength and vigor. It cures uric acid troubles by strengthening the kidneys so they will strain out the uric acid that settles in the muscles and joints causing rheumatism. F. B. Brill, local agent. *135
